

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What is The Life & Career Clinic?

A: The L&CC is an organization dedicated to providing insight, resources and support to those seeking to discover and express fulfilling lifework. It consists of an intensive self-discovery process called Life Focusing™ as well as a series of teams, classes and network of resources. The focus is on the continuing evolvement and expression of passion and purpose in all areas of one's life.

The Life and Career Clinic is so named because we believe it a place of healing your relationship with work so that you can experience the exhilaration and passion that comes from performing life's work that is truly in alignment with who you are.

It is also a Clinic in that it provides the highest level of professional guidance and services in a variety of specialized areas. Like a Clinic, you use only those services which support you at this time.

Our L&CC concept is innovative and effective. We welcome you to our network and are delighted to join hands join hands with you in the quest for a life that is filled with passion, vision, joy and fulfillment.

Q. Who are your staff?

A. The L&CC is operated and facilitated by those who, through the use of our principles, have found passion and fulfillment in their own lives. Our facilitators are professional men and women from all walks of life who have not only made successful transitions, but have also undergone a one year certification training program. Unlike quickly recruited consultants, these trained professionals teach with heart hope and personal experience.

Q: Who is this for? Just career and job seekers?

A: No. Our client base includes the following:

- ◆ Employees affected by downsizing and restructuring.
- ◆ Professionals who feel frustrated, burned out or unfulfilled.
- ◆ Entrepreneurs re-focusing their talents and organization for more success.
- ◆ Recent high school and college graduates needing clarity about their future.
- ◆ Women re-entering the workplace.
- ◆ Anyone in career or personal transition.
- ◆ Anyone seeking more clarity, focus, passion and purpose in their life.
